Dear Parents/Guardian/Students,

"Let us remember: One book, one pen, one child, and one teacher can change the world." — Malala Yousafzai

The Story of Les Brown

Les Brown, one of the world's foremost motivational speakers, had a challenging start in life. Born in Liberty City, Miami, he faced numerous hardships, including being labelled "educable mentally handicapped" in school. This label led to him being held back a grade and being ridiculed by his peers.

One day, a teacher asked Les to solve a problem on the chalkboard. Les refused, saying he couldn't because he was "educable mentally handicapped." The teacher's response was life-changing. He looked Les in the eye and said, "Don't ever say that again. Someone else's opinion of you does not have to become your reality."

These words stuck with Les and motivated him to overcome incredible odds. He went on to become a successful motivational speaker, inspiring millions with his message: "You have greatness within you."

This story highlights the profound impact a teacher's belief and encouragement can have on a student's life. It reminds us that teachers play a crucial role in shaping our futures and that their words can inspire us to achieve greatness.
